

Stamp Coupling within Choreography Workflow

Date: 2022-04-11

Status: Accepted

Context

We need to somehow carry the state of the new customer through out onboarding workflow. For this workflow we use the Anthology Saga Pattern.

Decision

We use stamp coupling to carry the state across the onboarding workflow.

Consequences

The messages throughout the workflow need to be large enough to accommodate all state properties. Services are further decoupled from one another since all necessary information is stored within the received message.
